

NOSC 2012
Post-Conference Field Trip Information
Civil Rights Tour to Selma, Alabama
Wednesday, October 3, 2012
1:00 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.

NOSC 2012 – hosted by The University of Alabama – offers participants the unique opportunity to visit sites that made civil rights history. If you sign for the tour, you will visit Brown Chapel AME Church and First Baptist Church in Selma, where Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., visited during the movement. They will also visit the National Voting Rights Museum in downtown Selma and end the tour by walking across Edmund Pettus Bridge, where “Bloody Sunday” took place, an event re-enacted every year on the anniversary of the event that took place on March 7, 1965.

Itinerary

- 1:00 p.m. Participants Depart The University of Alabama
- 2:30 p.m. Participants Arrive in Selma, AL
- 3:00 p.m. Civil Rights Tour Begins
Brown Memorial AME Church, First Baptist Church,
Edmund Pettus Bridge, and National Voting Rights Museum
- 5:00 p.m. Tour Ends and participants depart for dinner
- 5:30 p.m. Participants arrive at Tally Ho Restaurant for dinner
- 6:30 p.m. Depart Selma to return to The University of Alabama Campus
- 8:00 p.m. Arrive at The University of Alabama

Tour Facilitators

Felecia Jones
 Executive Director
 Black Belt Community Foundation
 Christopher H. Spencer
 Director of Community Development
 The University of Alabama
 Center for Community Based Partnerships

Tour Guide

Ms. Joanne Bland
 “Bloody Sunday” Marcher