Improvisation as a Pedagogy for Community Engagement

Olivia Hartle
PhD student, Community Engagement
Point Park University
Pittsburgh, PA
Agenda

- Warm-Up
- Introduction to Improvisation
- Case Study: Connect-Us
- Play!
- Discussion
Warm Up
What do you know about improvisation?
Improvisers train in:

- Listening
  - Building with “offers.”

- Supporting
  - Saying, “Yes, and...”

- Being Present
  - Make the other person look good.
Examples

- Theatre of the Oppressed / Forum Theatre
- Interactive Peer Theatre
- Improv “Playground” sessions
- College improv teams
- Community Trainings (e.g. conflict resolution)
- Corporate Trainings (e.g. change management)
Case Study:
Connect-Us (Bridgeport, CT)
Bridgeport Young Leaders

- Community Organizing Fellowship (paid)
- 6-8 young adults, ages 16-25
- Improv-based curriculum
- Door-knocking, street outreach
- “Performance of community outreach”
- 600 conversations; 200 sign-ups
Play
Discussion
Improvisers train in:

- Listening
  - Building with “offers.”
- Supporting
  - Saying, “Yes, and…”
- Being Present
  - Make the other person look good.
Select References

